PARISH ANNIVERSARIES

Those celebrating their 25-40-50-60th Anniversaries during 1975 are asked to call Mrs. Eileen Tardiff at 482-1145 during this week so that plans can be appropriately made.

JUST A WORD

By Fr. Harvey

The hum of activity in this parish is usually incessant, all day long and well into the night most every day. Interested, hard-working parishioners create the hum. Last Saturday was no exception. Following the All Souls' Day Mass which was flavored by some of the ancient Latin chants from the Requiem Mass for the special day, activities rolled into high gear.

install metal lath on the new hall entrance in preparation for the cement plaster which should nicely finish the entrance way. Working on the ladder above the entrance was Dave Wheeler, chairman of the Administration Commission, installing two new lighting fixtures which now grace the building and provide some needed light in the entrance to the hall. Norm Hallman helped Dave complete the project on Monday evening.

While hammers pounded and high-powered drills droned on, the landscaping received some more attention from Mr. Charles Leitshuh, our cemetery sexton. His step-son, Joe Slater, and cemetery assistant, Roy Cline, were hard at work on the newly-seeded lawn and added mulch and fertilizer to newly-planted shrubs on the parish grounds.

Meanwhile, in Needham Hall, the monthly 'White Elephant Sale,' sponsored by the Service Commission, was in progress. When the picture was taken, Tom Francis had dropped by to look over the wares; Rita and Dan Shemon had brought another item for the sale which was graciously received by Margaret Meier and Adeline Moore, sales clerks.

The final picture captures another parishioner hard at work. Mr. Joe Conner volunteered his services and materials to begin repointing the stone steps at the rectory and church. To all of you and to the many other parishioners who were not caught by the camera, our gracious thanks.
